Parent Tips - Staying Safe

Most of the providers in this brochure have provided activities before and are very experienced. The Holiday Activities Steering Group has done all it can to ensure the quality of the provision and also that all appropriate documentation is in place to keep children safe and give them the very best experience. Members of the Holiday Activities Steering Group who work in the voluntary sector or for the Council will be visiting the different activities over the summer to check in and see that all is running well.

However, you know your children best and it is really important that you feel satisfied with the support your child is getting and that they are safe, and that if this not the case that you report any serious concerns.

Here are some handy tips which are useful for any occasions where your child attends activities, and what to do if you are worried:

LOOK

- When you drop your child at the activity are you happy with all that you see.
- Any good provider will, within reason, be happy to show you around the provision and answer any questions.

TALK

- Talk to the leader - any good leader is happy to be asked questions about themselves, their experience, their qualifications, their team and how they will keep your children safe.
- Talk to your children - always check out with them at the end of the day that they felt supported, happy and safe.
- Let them know they can tell you anything that worries them.
- Let your children know that no one can tell them not to tell you something.
- Ask them if they are worried or unhappy about anything.

LISTEN

- Listen to what your children say; not only when you talk to them directly but when they share information in other situations – are you worried about anything they say?

SHARE

- If you do feel worried it's good to talk to someone else about it to test out your thoughts and feelings. You could speak to someone you trust in your family, a close friend or maybe a professional who is working with your family.

REPORT

- If you are still worried either by something you have seen or something your child has told you then in the first instance it's good to report it to the leader to seek reassurance.
- If you are not happy with the response then please report it to the Holiday Activities team by emailing HAF@bury.gov.uk. Please ensure you leave your contact details so we can call you to discuss.

You can also:

- Contact the NSPCC for advice and talk through any safeguarding concerns on 0808 800 5000
- Any serious or immediate concerns for a child's safety can be reported to the police on 0161 872 5050 or Bury's Children's Social Care Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub, on 0161 253 5678

Holiday activities at schools

Some schools will also be offering lots of great activities over summer and will have free places available for eligible children.

Ask your child's teacher if there is anything happening and how you can apply.

Activities will also be provided that are suitable for children with special educational needs and disabilities – see what is available at:

www.theburydirectory.co.uk/send-local-offer.

Get social, stay up to date

As well as the activities provided in this brochure, some local community groups will also be offering free places to eligible children.

Look out for Bury's Holiday Activities and Food signs, banners and promotion – like this brochure - in your community.

Please keep an eye on www.bury.gov.uk/holiday-activities for additional activities and updates.

All children over the age of 11 should continue to regularly use the Covid-19 home testing kits. Many of the providers in this brochure will have tests available for you to take home should you require them.
